LENGTH	TITLE	ACTIVITY	WHAT YOU CAN SAY
2 min	Welcome 	Connecting your team to the purpose of today's video  HOW TO DO IT: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Gather your team around a screen so they can see and hear the video.</li> <li>Print the Five Valued Experiences Packet for each team member.</li> </ul>	"The last time we met, we discovered a skill that will support us in identifying a person's gifts and strengths.  Today, we will be introduced to a skill that will support us in taking the next step. Now that we have identified a person's gifts, we must start exploring places within the community that will welcome the person and their contributions.  This video will help us get started in exploring our community."
9 min	Play Video
5 min	Self Reflection 	Explore places within the community where people can thrive.  HOW TO DO IT: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Pause the video at 9 min 50 sec</li> <li>Give 5 minutes to complete the first four questions on the places and possibilities activity sheet</li> <li>Determine if you would like your team to use the skill on themselves or on someone that your organization supports</li> </ul>	"Before we start, I'd like everyone to do this skill on yourself or someone our organization supports.  When answering the first four questions, I encourage us to challenge ourselves and consider the person's gifts, capacities, and passions. Where are ordinary places within our community where their gifts will be welcomed that we may not have thought of already?"

Encourage people not to get stuck on places going in the "correct" column. Focus on capturing the places rather than where they go.

If your team completed the "Gifts and Capacities" activity, encourage them to use that activity sheet to ensure they are exploring places that will welcome their gifts.
