

REFLECTION

Take time to think about the benefits of the communication chart and what is realistic for you and the people you support.

How can you utilize or implement the communication chart within your organization?

Identify one thing that may get in the way of you trying?

What will you do to overcome that barrier?

What support can this community of practice provide to you?