

Activity

Given the information you just learned about Sean, his conservator, and what it would take to have more control in his life, answer the following questions:

How might you support Sean in having more autonomy around his finances?

How might you include Greg (conservator) in those conversations?

*Please note that you may or may not work directly with conservators. If this is not within your role, what are ideas that you may present to the person who does work with conservators?

How might having this type of information around decision-making support you in your role as a direct support professional?
